The President's Message Queensland Dog World

Welcome to the first issue of the new 'in-house' Dog World magazine, an exciting and innovative change to our popular publication – we are sure you will enjoy this issue.

NATIONAL AGILITY TRIAL

The National Agility Trial held at Durack from 25th to 29th of June was a great success. The hard working Agility Subcommittee should be congratulated for all their tireless efforts which contributed greatly to its success. The Trial attracted media coverage from ABC News, for members who missed this live feed, go to the Dogs Queensland Facebook page and click on the Staffordshire Bull Terrier going over the jump. Hopefully this will be the first of many positive media coverages to come for Dogs Queensland.

A large vote of thanks must also go to all of the following Dogs Queensland Volunteers who gave their time so willingly;

Elaine Curry

Ellen Nan-Kivell (these two ladies are always one of the first to help, not just Dogs Queensland but anyone who needs it) Ainslie Carius

Shaneen Bendixen

Natalie Stewart from the Office

Les Hersant

Jenny Chriswick

Garth Goodwin

Bea Goodwin

Caroline Pearen

and last but not least Kevin Zimmerle..!!

Helen Mackie and myself thoroughly enjoyed watching, when we could, the crowds around the Rings supporting and cheering all the teams, what a great sight to see.

VENDOR'S SITES

All Members are asked to note that the use of the Vendor's Powered Sites are for the strict use of Vendors only, not for Members' personal use. These sites are booked and paid for, again I stress, for Vendors use only.

CHALLENGE CERTIFICATES

Just to set the record straight, Members who receive a Challenge Certificate, not a Best of Breed, may collect their Certificate and withdraw from further competition if they wish, as long as they notify the Steward they are doing so, I would refer all Members and Show Managers to Rule 222;

222. Any dog including Challenge winners but excluding Best of Breed winners, may be withdrawn prior to Group Specials, providing the Ring Steward is officially notified of such withdrawal, and the catalogue marked to that effect.

MR JOHN 'SKEETA' RYAN and MRS MARY RYDER

It is with the deepest of sadness that I draw members' attention to the passing of two of Dogs Queensland's great ambassadors and Life Members. Firstly, Mr John "Skeeta" Ryan. He was, for me, one of the most honest and honourable gentlemen I had ever had the privilege to meet. Skeeta was a very active member in Dogs Queensland as well as being a Councillor of the CCC(Q). He was also a prominent volunteer in numerous ways for his local community. That was the type of man that Skeeta was, always giving of himself, his time and knowledge for the benefit of others.

Secondly, Mrs. Mary Ryder. I don't believe there would be too many in the Conformation side of things who do not know Mary and Eddie Ryder. Mary worked tirelessly for Western Suburbs Kennel Club, Combined CCC Clubs and so many other Clubs that the list could go on and on. Mary also devoted a lot of her time to help with the training of Stewards, Writers and Show Managers. Let's face it, if Mary said she was going to do something, you could take that to the bank. That was our Mary. We will always remember Mary for her efficiency and devotion to detail, equal to none, in any endeavour she took part in.

Round 2 The Priority Round!

Right now members will either have been to a Round 2 Priority Workshop or be about to go to one somewhere in their Zone. It seems most members will want to be part of determining priorities, even if they missed Round 1!

Round 2 is the Priority Round of the Strategic Planning process for Dogs Queensland and will involve not only individual members of Dogs Queensland but also other stakeholders in the dog world government, other associations, clubs, office holders and networks.

Round 2 will lead into the preparation of a draft Strategic Plan in September which will be referred to members prior to being considered for approval by the Board.

By now members will have seen the full report on outcomes of Round 1 which have been emailed and are online. Some of the emerging themes include: governance; judging; access to training; club sustainability; membership; overall purpose of Dogs Queensland; show date scheduling; handling disputes, and more.

It will be exciting to see which of these themes rise to the top of the priority list during Round 2 of the process. From that list, future action will be decided!

What is an Australian Cattle Dog?

Writen by Wayne Carter

When the Australian Cattle Dog was first developed back in the 1800's there were several different types of dog that were trialled and bred together to make the breed what it is today.

Most people would be surprised to know the dogs in question were the Dingo, Dalmatian, Rough Collie, Bull Terrier and Russian Poodle.

When judging an Australian Cattle Dog you should see an example of the breed that shows a 'suspicious or watchful glint' and a white mark on their head called the 'Bentley's mark' which is also a strong and noticeable characteristic.

When a cattle dog is being judged and walking down a line-up of dogs (or guarding their property) they should also be tough, robust and full of confidence. Correct movement and a structurally sound build in any working breed of dog is also of course very important.

Regarding temperament, it is important to note that an Australian Cattle Dog that backs away, shows its tail between its legs or demonstrates signs of timidness is not showing the characteristics of the breed.

As a pet the Australian Cattle Dog is a very loyal family member that will bond guickly with its new home and take on the role as a protector for both its owners and its property.

A Schipperke called Wanda

Written by Pam Fischer Rockhampton Dog Obedience Club Inc

'Wanda' recently competed in four Obedience trials in Mackay and successfully qualified in all four.

In the past I have trialled with Dobermanns, Pointers and Staffys and have achieved up to UD level, being before there was a UDX level. I was ready for a new dog as my others are retired and after much research, decided on a Schipperke and I've now had Wanda for 4 years.

I expected a challenge but Wanda exceeded all of my expectations, mainly because she decided it was such fun to do circuits of the ring between exercises. I am hoping to achieve higher levels of Obedience Competition with her.

Schipperkes are not an easy breed to compete with but certainly keep you on your toes!

Scowchein Wanda, a breed not often seen in the obedience ring.

Australia's most agile dogs compete to be Top Dog

(ABC News Sunday 29th June 2014)

Competitors from across Australia and New Zealand arrived to compete in the first National Agility Trials held in Brisbane. Over 520 dogs from all over the country including a strong New Zealand team competed in the recent 5 day 2014 National Agility Trails hosted by Dogs Queensland at the Dog Sports ground, Durack commencing on the 25th June.

Teams started arriving early to acclimatise and train. The New Zealand team (NZ Paw Blacks) flew in with their dogs well in advance and enjoyed a training session at the Jimboomba Dog Training Club. The WA Sand Paws were fierce competitors, giving the Kiwis a taste of WA competitiveness and skills.

It was a truly electric atmosphere with dogs of all shapes and sizes running, jumping, weaving and hurling themselves through tunnels and over rubberised obstacles. Most owners use extensive reward-based training in the lead-up to achieving a perfect run racing against the clock on continually changing and challenging obstacle courses. Dogs must be fit, keen, fast and enjoy themselves while responding to verbal and body language cues from their handlers.

The ABC News attended the event and recorded live interviews with Moira Bruce (Gold Coast Dog Obedience Club), Frank Fitzpatrick (WA Sand Paws), Natasha Coulter (NZ Paw Blacks), Barbara Murfet (Dogs Queensland). The link to the News feature is on the Dogs Queensland Facebook page.

Feedback from competitors, sponsors and the public has been extremely positive, with comments echoing this statement from Rohan Ally - Allycats "What can I say or add to what has already been said but another huge congratulations to the Agility Committee on organising this amazing event for the first time in Oueensland"

The organising committee for the event have been preparing for this event for a number of years. The National Agility Committee spokesperson, Sue Ward, advised that the planning and fundraising has been ongoing for several years culminating in the biggest Agility dog competition ever staged in Queensland with more than 5,600 runs. A massive undertaking by an active and dedicated committee, supported by 6 clubs including Jimboomba Dog Training Club.

Fifteen new essential pieces of "contact" equipment were manufactured to the specific rules of the Australian National Kennel Council. Sponsors such as A1 Rubber of Yatala supplied the coating of the equipment with their coloured rubber granules to lift safety to the highest possible level providing secure grip and cushioned surfaces for the dogs.

Local agility enthusiasts Adrian Rizzalli of Munruben and Gordon Thiry of Cedar Vale built the new equipment to first class standard.

Jimboomba Dog Training Club contingent included Chief Instructor, Rohan Ally, with his consistent Border Collie Agility Champion Perrioak Harlqun McTavsh who amazingly for his age of almost 13 years, qualified for a Final and then ran another perfect round on a tricky course against all the finalists, flagging his pink (Jimboomba club colour) tail as he gave the younger dogs a good run for their money.

The dogwalk was generously sponsored by Dr Nigel Thomas of Park Ridge Animal Hospital to be used first at the National event and then in the future at Jimboomba club.

Jimboomba club offers assistance to local dog owners with basic obedience through to competition level in obedience and agility. Contact Jacqui on 3297 0955 for details.

The Australian Stumpy Tail Cattle Dog

The Australian Stumpy Tail Cattle Dog breed began evolving in the early 1830's because of the need for a dog that could work cattle in Australia's very harsh environment. The breed that we see today is the result of many years of careful thought, and selective breeding by dedicated people. Three breeds of dog went into the making of the 'Stumpy'.

First there was the crossing of the Dingo with an English breed of dog called the Smithfield (these dogs were naturally bob tailed) which is where the gene comes from that is still present in the 'Stumpy' today.

Then the progeny from these matings were crossed with the smooth coated blue Merle Collie (commonly referred to today as the German Coolie) and so a breed of dog was born that cattlemen, then and today, swear is the best working dog in the world.

Average size, wieght and Lifespan

Dogs: 46 - 51cm (18 - 20 ins height at shoulder) Bitches: 43 - 49cm (17 - 19 ins height at shoulder)

Weight: Between 18 - 22kg

Lifespan: 10 to 15 years of age (approx)

Breed personality / Characteristics / Temperament

The 'Stumpy' is a loyal, courageous and devoted animal that possesses natural aptitude in the working and control of cattle. It is suspicious of strangers and will protect its family and possessions with its life.

It is not an aggresive dog but if pushed will not back down without a fight. The 'Stumpy' loves nothing better than to be able to spend time in company of its owner, doing whatever is asked of it. Although the 'Stumpy' can sometimes be very stubborn and owners should always be firm without being cruel, as the 'Stumpy' does not tolerate harsh treatment.

Compatibility with other pets:

The 'Stumpy' will get along with other animals in a household as long as they are introduced slowly and without tension. The best way to do this is by allowing animals to see and smell each other through a wire frame for a few weeks, until they realise they pose no threat to each other.

The Australian Stumpy Tail Cattle Dog - Image attribution to Wendy Hodges

Care requirements:

Even though the 'Stumpy' is a working dog, it does well in a suburban household as long as exercise requirements (and need for mental stimulation) are met. Obedience training with the 'Stumpy' is a necessity as its intelligence needs harnessing, so that it doesn't dream up activities itself - such as digging tunnels, pulling washing from the line, pruning trees, jumping fences etcl

The 'Stumpy' must be socialised with other animals and people from an early age and throughout its life. This breed also has a naturally short coat which only requires five minutes daily grooming.

Ideal owners/s

The ideal owner for the 'Stumpy' should be someone who appreciates an active dog. While these dogs adore children, they should not be left together unsupervised. Elderly people may find the 'Stumpy' a bit of a handful.

In conclusion:

Now you know a little about the Australian Stumpy Tail Cattle Dog and have decided this is the dog for you, or you want more information, contact the breed club or Dogs Queensland.

They will be able to give you information about available puppies and also suggest dog shows where you can see the breed and speak to breeders.

Information supplied from ANKC literature.

The Miniature Pinscher

The Min-Pin (as it is affectionately called) originated in Germany and has been documented since the early 1800's, more formally so since 1895 with the information of the German Pinscher Club. Evidence of the breed dates back to the 15th Century.

Formerly called the Rich Pinscher, which refers to the 'Small Red Deer', found in the German forest. Originally bred as stable dogs to eradicate rats and mice, while hunters by nature still today, they still have a strong affinity with horses.

Average size, wieght and Lifespan

Dogs: 25.5 - 30.5cm (10 - 12 ins height at shoulder) Bitches: 25.5 - 30.5cm (10 - 12 ins height at shoulder)

Weight: Between 2.5 - 4kg

Lifespan: 13 to 16 years of age (approx)

Breed personality / Characteristics / Temperament

A proud vigorous and spirited little dog - all terrier no Toy. Loyal and intelligent companion. Precise hackney gait and bold animation and self possessed presentation.

Fearless and alert makes an excellent watchdog - don't confuse the often initial reaction to strangers with poor temperament, once off guard should be accepting of anyone in your home as long as you are!

Compatibility with other pets:

If brought up from a young age with other animals Min-Pins will accept just about anything including birds and cats, while chasing away similar interlopers. Min-Pins like to dominate so care should be taken regarding personalities and supervised introduction.

Please take note:

A Miniature Pinscher will be a very active, alert and interactive member of your household, often behaving live an unruly child. While they always amuse and entertain they need a consistent set of house rules from the start. Be firm in your resolve or they will beguile you. Never walk a Miniature Pinscher off lead as they can be selectively deaf.

Care requirements:

The short, hard coat requires little care. In spring and Autumn firm stroking by hand or a small brush will remove excess hair. Bathing is not often required as too much removes essential oils that protect the coat.

Ideal owners/s

All except the very young and the very elderly (too active). They tend to be devoted to the family as a whole but may choose a particular member as their soul mate while still revelling in the company of all.

In conclusion:

Now you know a little about the Miniature Pinscher and have decided this is the dog for you, or you want more information, contact the breed club or Dogs Queensland.

They will be able to give you information about available puppies and also suggest dog shows where you can see the breed and speak to breeders.

What a fantastic championship show!

It was a great day to get together, socialise and share in the same values we all uphold with much fun had by all.

Many thanks to Dogs Queensland for providing a booth with flyers and breed specific sheets to inform and share with the public.

The day had a great positive flow and we look forward to the next opportunity to meet and share a successful show.

To complement this month's featured breeds, we have amazing books on both the Australian Cattle Dog and the Miniature Pinscher

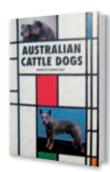

One of the featured breeds this month is the ever popular Australian Cattle Dog.

There are a number of books on this breed available in the Library but I have selected to mention a very special book titled 'Australian Cattle Dogs – Old Timers'.

This book was published in 1995 and the parents of the author, Cheryl Ann Edwards, were breeding and showing Australian cattle Dogs before Cheryl was born in 1952.

This book explores the history of the breed and is so much more than just another book on Cattle Dogs.

Also a very worthwhile book on this iconic breed is simply titled 'Australian Cattle Dogs' written by well known Australian breeder, Narelle Robertson.

This book is a TFH publication but the included is a must for Cattle Dog breeders and exhibitors.

Complimenting these breeds, the other featured breed in August is the Miniature Pinscher. The Library holds several books on this breed and a book titled 'Miniature Pinscher' is another of those excellent books published by the American Kennel Club.

Our Library welcomes you

Now we are back to 'day time' shows, the Library will be open on all "All Breeds" with shows from approximately 10.30am for 2 to 3 hours.

The Library is located at the rear of the Club House next to the meeting rooms and Board Room. Everyone is welcome to come in and browse and recent visitors have remarked on the quality and quantity of the books we have (we also have catalogues for Royal shows, magazines galore, DVDs and Videos).

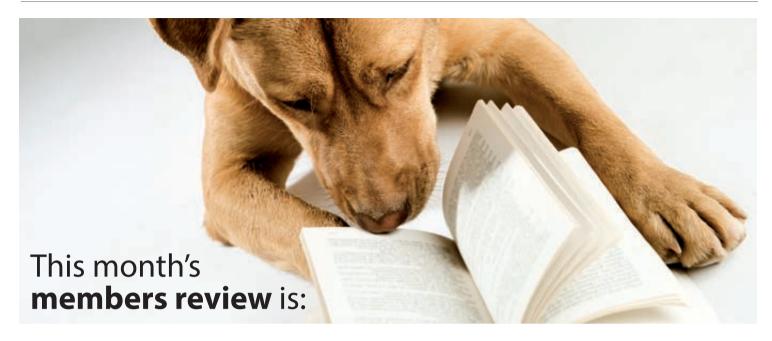

The Committee looks forward to your visits!

This book was a recent donation to the Library and for anyone who loves 'old dogs', the stories in this book will either make you laugh or cry.

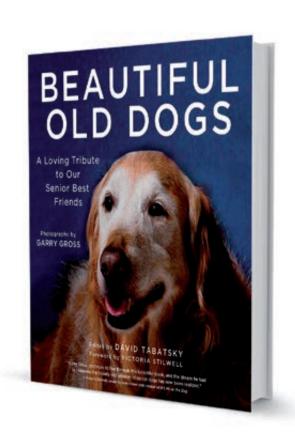

The book is sub-titled 'A Loving Tribute to our Senior Best Friends' and certainly lives up to that.

The photographs accompanying the stories are awesome and the photographer has captured the beauty and dignity of 'senior' dogs.

I loved this book and I am sure other readers will also.

As Gandhi once said – "The greatness of a nation and its moral progress can be judged by the way that its animals are treated".

This book is available to be borrowed from the Library.

The following article represents my personal journey as someone who has been involved in showing and breeding Australian Cattle Dogs in this great country for over 35 years. I currently only have a small number of dogs but over the last 30 years I have been fortunate enough to own 4 - 6 fine examples which have been successfully shown, bred and sold both locally, nationally and internationally.

It is true that quite a few folk around Queensland and Australia have also been involved with the Australian Cattle Dog scene for long periods of time and for various different reasons. Ownership of this breed has often included reasons such as work and business requirements as well as family tradition (children of parents who also owned Australian Cattle Dogs continuing ownership generationally within the family).

The value that I hope to bring to this article and you, dear reader, lies in my good fortune that, due to my professional research work I was able to travel extensively around Australia, the United States, New Zealand and Europe in the early 1980s.

Many of my historical insights are based on comparing the dogs I saw in the 1980s to those I see today. It should be said that some of the kennels I was fortunate enough to visit in those early days included places like Glen Iris, Wooleston, Greeben, Dustyroad, Galwarri and Rokeglen but I was also fortunate enough to visit kennels in the USA such as Domeland, Bushranger, and Country Time. Of course throughout my travels there were many more examples of Australian Cattle Dogs seen at various shows, as individuals and that also includes both within this country and overseas.

I do truly subscribe to the view offered by Cheryl Edwards in her book 'Old Timers' that there were as many good dogs then as there are now but I certainly have seen and think it is worth noting some changes for those who think deeply about their animals and the breed.

The following section of this article I've split into four main themes that have always stood out to me and have summarised the most notable changes I have witnessed over the years: temperament, colour, breeding strategies and the use of technology.

Temperament:

I believe there have been very large improvements in the temperaments of the Australian Cattle Dog, at least as judged by the animals now shown and the way they behave. Gone are the days when it was almost common to see a judge snapped at by an aggressive male or a shy bitch. I can recall multiple incidents from the past where dogs came to the show ring muzzled or semi-strangled by their owners who were fearful of an outburst of aggression.

This concern was not confined to the show setting as when visiting many kennels and properties I often saw dogs which appeared to be only marginally under their owner's control. Being protective is of course acceptable, but continued and sustained threats by a snarling, barking animal were never really admirable behaviours. It should also be mentioned that not every cattle dog at the time was like that and many sweet natured dogs did co-exist along with their less friendly kennel mates.

The contribution of breeders to improving temperaments is an enormous leap forward for the breed and working on the twin drivers of temperament (selective breeding and good and frequent socialisation) has achieved a place for the breed in twenty first century Australia. The caveat here to all breeders is to keep going with this emphasis and do not be seduced by the beautiful animal with the sour disposition (those bad traits will reoccur in the progeny).

Colour:

I think there has been a colour revolution in the Australian Cattle Dog since the early 1980s and at the core there has always been a 'red revolution'. There were a couple of good red dogs then; some were Turrella dogs and then there was the heavily influential Champion Galwarri Red Flare and of course the Donatello and Arakoon dogs in that line, but the numbers were small and they were an oddity in most line-ups.

There was a sense that they were lighter framed and some had very questionable temperaments. Both through the success of a small cohort of breeders in the greater Brisbane area who produced quality stylish reds (notably Linklowe and Blucalypt kennels) and the earlier show success of Landmaster and then Warkoo kennels in winning in Melbourne, red dogs were given a boost which has endured. Additionally, there has also been a re-emergence of dogs with strong and pronounced speckle, both in blues and reds.

This was a feature of the long standing Turrella kennels for many years but is now seen much more widely and is appreciated by more judges. Genetic research on the complexity of the colour patterns in Australian Cattle Dogs has been developed and is now far better understood. It's important to note at its core it is a complex multi-attribute process but in my personal view and experience, breeding for a lack of body patches in blues seems to reduce tan and can produce rather pale or conversely very black dogs.

In contemporary Australia I think there is an advantage to breeding prettier looking cattle dogs (whether they be red or blue) since they probably get treated better and are more easily distinguished from the scourge of crossbreds masquerading and mislabelled as cattle dogs which have been attributed to causing community problems.

Breeding strategies:

The great message about breeding in the 1970s and 1980s was to line bred very closely (really in breeding) to fix a type. Several prominent kennels in that earlier era pursued this strategy and ran into problems with hips and temperament. The change both within the dog world today and the Australian Cattle Dog fraternity is to be much more circumspect about close matings.

Additionally, there is the wider view that matings are really a collation of the characteristics of families rather than the two parents and this view I have found helpful in offering occasional advice to new breeders about how to progress their kennels and produce quality pups. This point actually raises an interesting line of advice; if you are starting out breeding, then talk to long-standing people in the breed as their knowledge of lines of animals can offer directions for your progress.

Technology:

The advantages of using technology to screen for a range of undesirable traits and to take the guesswork out of measuring key breeding attributes is now an established practice; hips and hearing are prime examples of this progress though costs and location are still are a deterrent for those in rural areas. We can expect to see more of these measures in the future.

35 years ago it was possible for the astute and the experienced breeders to assess some of these characteristics but the research-based confirmation of traits is a real boost to all. Two other advantages of technology also stand out and it is now possible to use and learn from dogs which have passed on, a feature of twenty first century science which makes the understanding of the old dogs and their pedigrees even more valuable.

Finally (and importantly the very basis on which this article is written) the expensive process of tracking around a country to see animals is at least partly replaced by the Internet images of our age. I would encourage all who have such old photos and resources to go on line and digitise their material for the use of others.

There were good dogs then, but I think it is fair to say there are more good dogs now, and following the points raised in these notes, breeders might be able to create even greater Australian Cattle Dogs in the future.

Junior Handlers show how it's done in 2014!

Welcome to my first column for Junior Handlers!

I have jumped ship from the North Queensland reporting, and happy to be reporting on the Juniors in Queensland. I can be contacted at supremecy@bigpond.com if you would like to be a feature handler in the upcoming months or if you are a judge who would like to be interviewed.

Juniors, this is YOUR column, so don't be afraid to tell me what you want, points you want clarified or send photos through for publication. I am open to all news!

The junior handler committee are well on their way planning for this year's state final. The first year that the event will be held away from the EKKA, and instead the finals are being held the day after the general specials judging at Durack.

The state final is now on the same weekend as the Gundog and heavy breeds shows, the terrier show and the toy show which is a positive move in hopefully encouraging many more handlers to participate, and a wider audience of dog people being available to watch the event.

Hosting the event at Durack also means that a better sized ring can be provided for the juniors, free entry for families and owners of the dog and also makes life a little easier for those competing.

This is the first year, and whilst there may be teething issues the committee are going out of their way to ensure that the finals cater for the juniors, and every decision is made with the betterment of the dog world at heart.

Thanks to those who give up their time to help the juniors- the sport couldn't survive without all the parents, carers, judges and those who have no children but love the dog world volunteering.

Interviews & insights

This month we have an interview from Mrs Nadia Attridge, who last year had the honour of judging the NZ national final to select the NZ representative to compete at Crufts.

Name: Nadia Attridge

Breed: Originally working dogs (Border Collies, Bearded Collies) now Jack Russell Terriers

Q: Your "heart" dog?

A: My heart dog forever will be my first show dog, Grand Champion Cannyben Bonnys Crusade "Boofy". He was the most gentle, loving and endearing dog, and without him and his success I would not have stayed with showing. I am forever indebted to Janice McKiernan for breeding him.

Q: How did you become involved in the show world?

A: Through Boofy. His first show he won Reserve Dog and Champion Puppy In Group, from then on I had the showing bug.

Q: Best thing about showing?

A: I love dogs, so clearly that is a huge factor, but the social aspect is what makes the day. I feel fortunate to have some wonderful friends across many different breeds.

O: The hardest?

A: The negativity and nastiness of some people.

Q: Why did you become a handlers judge?

A: I wanted to give back something to the hobby. All four of our children have enjoyed Junior Handlers, so I felt it was important to not be a ring side critic.

Also without people being prepared to step up and be involved then our hobby won't continue.

Q: Pet peeve when judging handlers?

A: When the Juniors aren't natural, or when they don't demonstrate care for their dogs

Q: Top five tips to handlers? (in no order)

- A: 1. Work with your dog talk to it, pat it, remember it's not a robot, and it deserves your care.
 - 2. Make sure your lead is in the right place for the dog, and it is the right length for you. If you need to knot the end in a bundle to do that, then work that out before going in the ring.
 - 3. Listen to the judge. Don't be afraid to say "Excuse me Miss/Sir would you please repeat the instruction"
 - 4. Be a considerate exhibitor. Leave space between your dog and the one in front. Check that the other exhibitor is ready when you are doing up and backs together, and in other situations where you are asked to move together. Congratulate the winners. Thank the person who let you use their dog.
 - 5. Have fun. If you aren't enjoying Junior Handlers then just don't do it. A young handler doesn't have to compete in Junior Handlers, so only do it if you want to. Remember hobbies are supposed to be about having fun.

This month we have also gained an interview from Miss Emily Puglisi from Townsville, NQ.

Name: Emily Puglisi

Age: 14

Q: Breeds commonly handled:

A: I mainly handle Australian Shepherds, Bull Terriers, Afghans, Shetland Sheepdogs and Hungarian Vizslas

Q: Your "heart" dog?

A: My "heart" dog would have to be my Aussie Shepherd Maverick. I have had him since a puppy and did all of his training.

Q: Breed you want when you grow up:

A: I would like to have an Australian Shepherd because I have grown up with them and I just love their personality.

Q: Best lesson you have learnt from handling dogs?

A: Winning is great, but losing just makes you stronger and more determined to improve next time.

Q: Real life idols?

A: My mum and dad are my idols. They teach and inspire me to follow my dreams and to treat others as you want to be treated. My parents are proud of me, knowing that I always try my hardest.

Q: Whats the hardest thing about competing in jnr handlers?

A: The hardest thing about competing in junior handlers is that different judges have 'different' rules. One judge will ask you to follow a rule from the rule book and then another will ask you to do an exercise that is not from the rule book that you have to follow. So it gets really confusing with the inconsistency.

Q: The best thing?

A: Probably meeting different people from different places when you are competing at the state final or just at your local show.

O: Thanks/comments?

A: I just want to thank everyone that has allowed me to show their dogs over the years. I would also like to thank my Mum, Dad and Sister for supporting and encouraging me in everything that I do.

If you would like to be interviewed for the upcoming months, send an email to supremecy@bigpond.com

Junior Mid-year Events

The Junior Handler club of NQ are hosting this annual mid-year event, held in conjunction with the NQ Social club who is hosting a dinner on the same night.

The event is aimed at preparing handlers in the north to be ready for the state finals in August.

Not only does the weekend have a competition, but the committee has also organised a series of workshops and 'one on one' tutoring that allows handlers to work through any issues they may be having with the exercises and junior handler manual.

Zone 2 handlers currently have the Callide Classic event to work towards at the end of the year, but also do not always get to attend the Durack sessions due to large travel distances.

As Zone 3 handlers don't get to attend the weekly training sessions at Durack, the weekend was created to achieve the same goals, in one weekend to save travelling.

Would like give a special thanks to all our amazing sponsors of the

2014 National Agility Trials

Well here we are in August and the show calendar slows down a little as Queensland focuses on the biggest show of the year, the EKKA.

Members in Zone 2 either take the opportunity to have a bit of a rest before things ramp up again in September or they make the journey down to Brisbane.

There have been a lot of shows in Zone 2 of late so members have been able to enjoy an abundance of opportunities to compete and catch up with friends.

It's EKKA Time Again!

From Friday, 08 August 2014 to Sunday 17 August 2014 exhibitors will converge on the RNA grounds in Fortitude Valley to participate in the Canine events at the 2014 Royal Show.

Over the last few years, there has been a major change and development of the confirmation judging area to incorporate new rings, stands and benching areas to enhance the experience for exhibitors and showcase purebred dogs to the general public. The committee are working very hard to improve the canine competition to further enhance it for members.

There have been many improvements over the past year, one of which provides the opportunity for selected breed participants to leave at different times.

Whilst we understand that some people may need to leave early, it is important however that we take advantage of every opportunity to display and talk about our pure bred dogs to the members of the public.

The EKKA is a fantastic opportunity to showcase Dogs Queensland and our specialty breeds, and most of all members of the public are curious and keen to learn more.

The dogs always draw a great crowd of onlookers and many members travel from near and far to participate in this show.

Some of the attractions at this year's EKKA also include the DQ Showbag and information booth – a lot of work has been put into the promotional side this year.

The EKKA is a great facility. All the best to all exhibitors competing at the EKKA this year especially those who make the long trip from the regional areas to participate.

There are also a number of specialty and breed club championship shows being held at Durack during this period as well as handler competitions which many members are looking forward to.

The Face of a New Grand Champion

Congratulations to Narelle O'Neill and her Foxhound 'Face', now Grand Champion Bellarell Newline Lacey Face on recently attaining Face's 1,000 points.

On the way to her Grand Championship, Face has also picked up several Best Exhibit and Runner-Up to Best Exhibit in Group awards and several Classes in Show.

Face, is the first Foxhound bitch in Australasia to attain a Grand Championship and the first non-tri colour Foxhound to achieve the title.

Well done Face and Narelle.

'Face' - the new grand champion

Junior Handlers promotion

Members will notice a slight change in the columnists for the Dog World with Fiona Vecchio joining the team as the Zone 3 columnist whilst Amanda Maynard will now be focusing on the Junior Handler news.

Amanda is passionate and dedicated to our junior handlers and I know she will do a great job getting the message of participation out there.

As a relatively new handler judge, I have been able to experience first-hand just how good our juniors are and how much they enjoy this aspect of dog showing.

One thing that I do find disappointing is the lack of numbers in Zone 2 for our handler classes. This isn't because juniors don't want to participate - there just aren't many juniors around, so as an organisation we really need to look at how we can attract new young people to our hobby.

I see junior handlers as an excellent way to do this and perhaps we need to promote ourselves more actively in this aspect by maybe arranging some "come and try" sessions where an experienced handler teaches a new person a few things to try and build some interest in handling and the purebred dog world in general.

Ag shows, with a large public presence do offer a great opportunity to try something like this and Dogs Queensland may need to look at taking advantage of this in the future.

Callide Classic 2014

Zone 2 members are reminded that the Callide Valley Canine Club Inc will be presenting the Callide Classic again this year.

With the centralisation of the DOTY/POTY final to one state-wide event held in Brisbane, the Callide Valley Club presented the inaugural Callide Classic for the members of Zone 2, to celebrate the achievements of our dogs who had won BIS or R/BIS, Minor and Puppy In Show.

The club is very much looking forward to presenting the event again for members as it was such an enjoyable night last year – watch out on the club's Facebook page and other communication channels for information about qualification and entry.

Specialty Weekend reminder June 6th to June 9th 2014

There were many faces from Zone 2 around the rings at Durack as members participated in Breed Specialty shows and two large All Breeds Shows (Western Suburbs and Ipswich) over the June long weekend.

I will just preface this by mentioning that this is by no means an exhaustive list of those who attended or did well at this weekend, but what I have been able to find out and research, so I have not intentionally left anyone out and apologise if I have.

Well done to:

- Olivia Mangin and "Vinnie" Sup Ch Blackfox Nadal going BIS at the Fox Terrier Club specialty show;
- Chloe and Robert Armatys going BIS at the Dachshund Club specialty show with "Aria" Ch Briarmist Songbird (Aramatys/ Black) and R/BIS at the Collie specialty show with "Preston" Am/Aust Ch Overland Northern Sky (Imp USA)
- Jennifer Sweeney and Tracjobea Black Hawk going R/BIS at the Beagle specialty show

These are just a few of the key results that I know of – many members from Zone 2 also placed highly in classes, won challenges and classes in show which just shows that the quality of dogs in the zone is competitive at any level. So many of our regional members did well, the results are too numerous to list.

Well done all.
