President's Message

“When it comes to Dogs Queensland, 2022 is a bit of a watershed or milestone year for me. It was in 2012 that I was put in the President role by the RNA with a council of 16 people and worked towards incorporation of the CCCQ as a corporate body separate from the RNA. And we achieved that at the end of that year after many consultation sessions across the State and a number of draft constitutions, first as an incorporated association and later as a company limited by guarantee. Many people contributed to that good outcome and democratic elections of directors on our governing board have followed.

With the exception of 2 years I have been a director over this pretty dynamic 10 years. And during my 2 year absence from the Board, I was actively involved with members in bringing on a Special General Meeting that passed resolutions ensuring that any sale of the Durack grounds and purchase of the former Masters site at Parkinson could only occur with a vote of members.

For after all, we are a member organisation and all of us as members have an important responsibility to take a real interest in our governance. Whether we show our dogs or engage in one or more of our many dog sports it is so important that we value our right to have a say as a member of Dogs Queensland. And 2022 is an important year for each member to give some thought about our governance and to have their input.

First of all, we have a Special General Meeting coming up on 9 February with an important question to be resolved about the directorship of Mr Woodrow. The motion to be voted on is “Mr Christopher Woodrow is removed as a director of Canine Control Council (Queensland) Ltd”. If you think that Mr Woodrow should remain a director, you will vote “Against” the motion. If you think that Mr Woodrow should not remain a director, you will vote “For” the motion.

For members who are unable to make the meeting here is information about lodging a proxy form in the office by 7pm on Monday 7 February 2022.

Whichever way you choose to vote, if you would like to put your vote in before the meeting you can do that by nominating the Secretary, Mr Harrison, as your proxy and completing the proxy form. Here is a link to the form. Once completed with your membership number you can then scan and email it to Mr Harrison on email rob@dogsqueensland.org.au or you can deliver it to the office. This needs to happen before 7pm on Monday 7 February 2022.

Alternatively, you can appoint, by proxy, a member to cast your vote as you direct. A member is limited to exercising a total of five (5) proxies for other members. This proxy form must also be lodged in the office by 7pm on Monday 7 February 2022.

The Secretary can hold an unlimited number of proxies and, of course, the proxies must be voted as you direct in the proxy form. When using the proxy form, if you wish to vote in favour of the motion, you put a cross in the “For” column. If you wish to vote against the motion, you put a cross in the “Against” column.

Secondly, the 4 year term of six of our directors will expire at the end of March 2023. Nominations for these director positions will open in November this year for about a month with the election being held in January 2023. Being a director can be rewarding and it is a way to give back something to our dog world. I know that we have diverse skills and experience in our membership ranks and it would be great to continue to tap into that. It's a great opportunity to learn more about our wide range of activities and look after member interests. Being a director is a completely voluntary role with no financial remuneration. I encourage you to start thinking about this and to talk to other members who you think could make a good contribution.

And on the subject of elections, we have had a pretty low percentage turn out for voting at director elections. At our last election, we had just 1570 members vote and that was just 25% of members. Let's see if we can see that increase substantially at the next election. Again, let's raise awareness about how important voting is in our member body.

And on that subject, we have called for expressions of interest for a casual director vacancy in Zone 3 due to the recent resignation of Mrs Sharron Taylor. So, if you are a member, live in Zone 3, and would be interested in being a director till March 2023 do send an email to Mr Rob Harrison by 16 February 2022. The Board will then consider those expressions of interest and decide on the filling of this vacancy. Zoom meetings have been a great option for directors unable to attend every meeting. If you would like any more information about being a director feel free to contact Rob or myself. It's a good opportunity to have an involvement for this shorter duration.

OUR FINANCIAL POSITION

Members will know that I am always keen to keep you informed about our financial situation. The auditors are currently in the office finalising our audit for the calendar year of 2021. The figures provided to the Board last week are subject to this audit so may alter somewhat. The final audited Financial Statements will of course form part of the Annual Report that will go to the AGM at the end of March.

Subject to this audit, the DQ profit figure at the end of December for the 2021 calendar year sits around the $600,000 mark.

The comparative figures for 2020, 2019 and 2018 were $623,915.59 (including $387,306.36 from the Covid Jobkeeper Subsidy), $-108,131.00 and $-259,671.25 respectively.

During 2021 Administration Income was well ahead of Budget, being $202,368.30 compared to a budget of $127,900. Shop sales and the sale of stationery showed marked increases.

Membership Income (5.5%), Prefix Income (15.3%) and Registration Income (38.5%) are all showing income well above Budget.

Litter Registration Income has brought in $1,004,179.890 in 2021 compared to $688,919.96 in 2018

This is a very positive result. It has been a priority of our General Manager and the Board to manage DQ finances carefully. My thanks go to Mr Rob Harrison, our Accountant, Ms Pina Mangion and the rest of our office for this good stewardship this last year. I will provide an update to members when the audit result is received. All going well, the Board will be looking at providing a flow on benefit to Clubs this year. Zoom meetings with Zone 2 and Zone 3 Clubs will be continuing this year with the next meeting scheduled for Monday 7 March 2022.

GCCC SHOW WEEKEND AND ADSS AUSTRALIA DAY SHOW

Hopefully this latest outbreak of Omicron will settle soon.

The decision to not proceed with the Gold Coast Canine Club Shows on the weekend of 21 and 22 January 2022 and the ADSS Australia Day Show on 25 January was not made lightly and made just a day or so beforehand. This was at a time when the peak of the Omicron wave was not expected for a few weeks, many of our DQ staff were affected by Omicron and there was concern about the welfare of our members and concern about marshalling sufficient volunteers and employees to manage Covid requirements on the grounds. The 8 directors who responded on the Thursday were all in favour of not proceeding with the shows and a 9th director responded this way too just after the decision was made.

I would like to thank the GCCC committee members for their cooperation and look forward to the rescheduling of this popular show weekend. I understand that some exhibitors had committed to the drive to Brisbane for that show weekend and incurred fuel expenses. Those members are welcome to submit claims to the office for consideration.

Wishing you and your families all the best in the forthcoming month.

FCI PODCAST: THE FCI COMMISSION FOR DOG DANCING

In this episode, Gopi Krishnan speaks with Emmy Simonsen, the President of the FCI Dog Dancing Commission, who pioneers this fairly new FCI sport that seems to be gaining much global popularity and support.

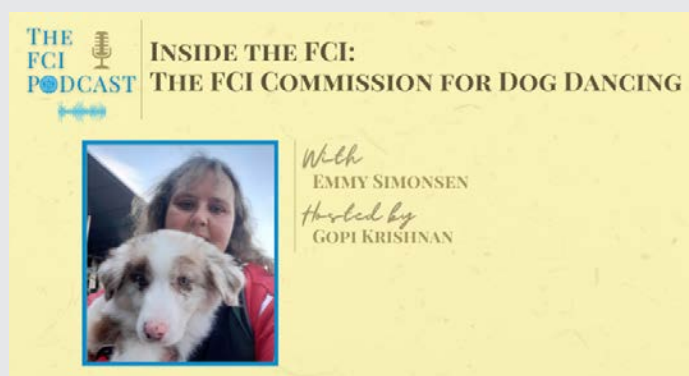

There has always been a fair amount of assumptions made about the largest global organisation for Pedigree Dogs, so this series of the FCI Podcast Channel titled “Inside the FCI” aims to shed light and dispel assumptions about this international organisation that stands For Pedigree Dogs Worldwide!

Comprising of ninety-eight member countries globally, the FCI is the largest global organisation for Pedigree Dogs covering almost every area of interest with dogs from conformation dog shows to dog sports and hunting trials.

But to keep such a large organisation working effectively will take a mountain of people to be involved in each area of specialist interest.

In the FCI, these committees or groups are known as FCI Commissions.

They comprise of volunteers from that particular area or expertise or field who dedicate their time and efforts to ensuring that their respective areas of interest are served with the sole aim being for the benefit of pedigree dogs.

DOGS QUEENSLAND: 2022 FLOOD ASSISTANCE

It is believed that some of our clubs/members have sustained serious property damage as a result of floods in the Maryborough area.

Whilst insurance cover may eventually go some way towards replacing the essential items, we also realise that the need for immediate access to funds to ensure that our members' dogs are kept safe and in good order becomes absolutely critical. The cost of temporary boarding, feeding, replacement of secure fencing / kennel runs, Veterinary care and transport are all very real expenses confronting our members across the State.

We invite our clubs/members who have been directly affected by this tragic event to apply for immediate financial assistance using the previously established Dogs Queensland Disaster Fund. Please use the attached Dogs Queensland application form to submit your request for assistance and it will be processed as a priority.

At this worrying time, please accept the warmest wishes from your fellow dog world members right across Australia, Interstate and Overseas.

HUNGARIAN VIZSLA

An excellent companion and family dog, the Vizsla requires daily exercise, both mental and physical ... their love for people and need to be with the family mean they must be part of the daily routine.

PERSONALITY

Vizslas are enthusiastic, energetic, graceful, athletic, exuberant, intelligent, people-focused, capable and can be slow to mature. They have a great sense of humour, affectionate and are very loyal. They are adaptable to most living conditions, enjoy company and love being the center of attention.

EXERCISE

High. People should be aware that this breed needs to be exercised daily and only recommended to active families. They can be an easy breed to train but training needs to be implemented as early as possible.

The Hungarian Vizsla has a long and sometimes romantic history and is the 'national dog' of Hungary. Wars in 20th century Europe led to significant reduction in numbers and loss of valuable breeding records. Those Vizslas that remained spread through a wider area of Europe and eventually arrived to other continents, gaining recognition in the UK in 1953, the USA in 1960, and coming to Australia in 1973.

A medium sized, smooth coated, 'hunt/point/retrieve' breed, they come in various shades of 'one colour suits all' – a striking rich golden-red traditionally recognised and described by the Breed Standard as 'Russet Gold'. Smallest of the smooth coated HPR's, and a moderate dog in physical aspects such as size and angulation, they are described as elegant and should never be coarse in appearance.

Developed as an all-purpose hunting companion, Vizslas proved to be valuable assistants to hunters in the pursuit of both fur and feather, on land or from water. They maintain these instinctive breed traits to this day, and in Australia accompany 'rough shooters', as well as those interested in the more 'formal' pursuits of Field and Retrieving Trials.

In Europe and areas of North America where the more traditional method of hunting is permitted, some Vizslas work with falconers, whilst in Europe they are also used in the pursuit of larger game such as boar and deer and will use their strong scenting ability to trail injured animals through thick forest.

HISTORY

The Hungarian Vizsla's origins are hazy and it's hard to pinpoint the exact place where they came from. The common belief is that the Magyar tribes from Asia Minor introduced the breed to Hungary in battle as far back as the ninth century. These tribes settled in the Carpathian Basin, now considered Eastern Europe.

In some history books, these hunting tribes were depicted as being accompanied by their "yellow dogs". Its colour was a particularly good asset as it was an effective camouflage when hunting and retrieving game birds amongst fields of golden grain.

Other names for the Hungarian Vizsla include Hungarian Pointer and Magyar Vizsla. Its Asian roots may be evident as the word Vizsla originally meant "to seek" in Turkish. Thousand-year-old stone carvings show Magyar hunters with a falcon and Vizsla as his hunting companions. The Vizsla was considered a valuable asset by aristocrats and was bred as companions for centuries. The breed flourished through the Turkish occupations in the 16th and 17th century. Several civil wars didn't stop the popularity of this breed. The popularity of the Vizsla continued during the two first World Wars. However, some authorities claim that the breed did start its decline in the late 19th century.

Many people are attracted to the Hungarian Vizsla's size and stunning appearance, and Vizslas are the breed of choice for many with an interest in competitive dog sports. Its compact size makes it a good all rounder in the pointer-retriever breed and as a companion.

The Hungarian Vizsla is an extremely intelligent breed and relatively easy to train. The breed is developed to work as a team with their owners. Vizslas mostly retain these original breed traits, and combined with their compliant and intelligent character, their athleticism and willingness to be trained and to work can make them a great choice for competitive Obedience, Agility or Flyball. With their excellent scenting ability they also frequently excel at Tracking.

The Vizsla is probably one of the few breeds where a need for sensitive training and avoidance of harsh treatment is actually referred to in the breed standard. Training is essential as an aid to communication, and to assist development of good manners, and Vizslas tend to become confused by harsh training methods. However, when rewarded for correct behaviour and gently prevented from practicing unwanted behaviour, they enjoy learning.

Vizslas can be wonderful family companions and can be tolerant with children, though they may be too boisterous with very young children. As with all dogs, supervision is required and both children and puppies need to be carefully shown how to behave calmly when together.

Vizsla puppies are very busy and can have short attention spans for early training. They remain active and energetic for most of their lives. Its' sound loyalty and temperament makes them a perfect candidate as a long-term family companion.

An excellent companion and family dog, the Vizsla requires daily exercise – both mental and physical. Most Vizslas like to swim, and that is an excellent alternative or addition to the daily walk. They cannot achieve their full potential when isolated from the family and need more than a game in the backyard to satisfy them. Their love for people and need to be with the family mean they must be part of the daily routine.

For some owners, the initial energy levels of a busy Vizsla puppy can be overwhelming and it seems that no amount of caution can prepare for the whirling puppy that comes home. But in the words of the late Gay Gottlieb, UK Hungarian Vizsla doyenne, in her first book 'The Hungarian Vizsla' published in 1985, 'Bred right, treated right, worked right, he can hold his own in any company.'

Though exercise and training needs can be significant, grooming is generally in the 'low maintenance' category – the usual removal of dead coat with a brush or grooming mitt when there are seasonal changes, and an occasional bath or wipe over with a wet towel is about all that is generally needed, other than regular pedicures!

The Vizsla on the whole is a healthy and active dog. That said, Vizslas suffer most of the diseases that affect other breeds and cross breeds. Cancer, epilepsy, immune mediated disease and hip dysplasia are all recorded in the breed.

As the breed becomes more popular so do people's misconceptions and expectations. The biggest mistake many people make is they underestimate the commitment the Vizsla needs for human companionship, acceptance and interaction within a family and their vigorous exercise needs. Some people in these circumstances find that they have chosen a dog that doesn't suit their lifestyle.

Families interested in owning a Vizsla need to ensure they already have an active lifestyle and don't mind exercising for the Vizsla is an active and athletic dog.

HUNGARIAN WIREHAired VIZSLA

“Whilst the Hungarian Wirehaired Vizsla has all the characteristics of the Shorthaired Vizsla, it is a more placid dog willing to sit of its own accord at the owner’s feet. The energy, enthusiasm and keenness to work is still there along with the desire to be involved in everything the owner is doing.” They are fun-loving and energetic and very much “people” dogs.

HISTORY AND PURPOSE

The Hungarian Wirehaired Vizsla was created in the 1930s by three breeder-hunters in Hungary and Slovakia. They crossed smooth-coated Vizslas with German Wirehaired Pointers (though it is believed that several other breeds have been occasionally introduced). Their purpose was to develop a more robust, strong-boned Vizsla better able to cope with cold and harsh hunting conditions in Central Europe, while retaining the excellent searching, pointing, tracking and retrieving abilities of the Vizsla.

HUNGARIAN WIREHAISED VIZSLAS IN AUSTRALIA

The first Hungarian Wirehaired Vizsla came to Australia in 2004 and the breed was recognized by the Australian National Kennel Council from 2007 thanks to the work of breed specialist Mrs Fay Harris who also developed the Extended Breed Standard. Since then, there have been imports from Hungary and elsewhere in Europe, the UK and New Zealand. Some kennels have bred several generations of Hungarian Wirehaired Vizslas, notably Habanero (Queensland), Rugalmas (NSW) and Lasair (Tasmania) – but not all of these are still breeding Hungarian Wirehaired Vizslas and several new kennels are starting. Nevertheless, the breed remains rare throughout Australia.

COMPARISON BETWEEN HUNGARIAN WIREHAISED VIZSLAS (HWV) AND HUNGARIAN VIZSLAS (HV)

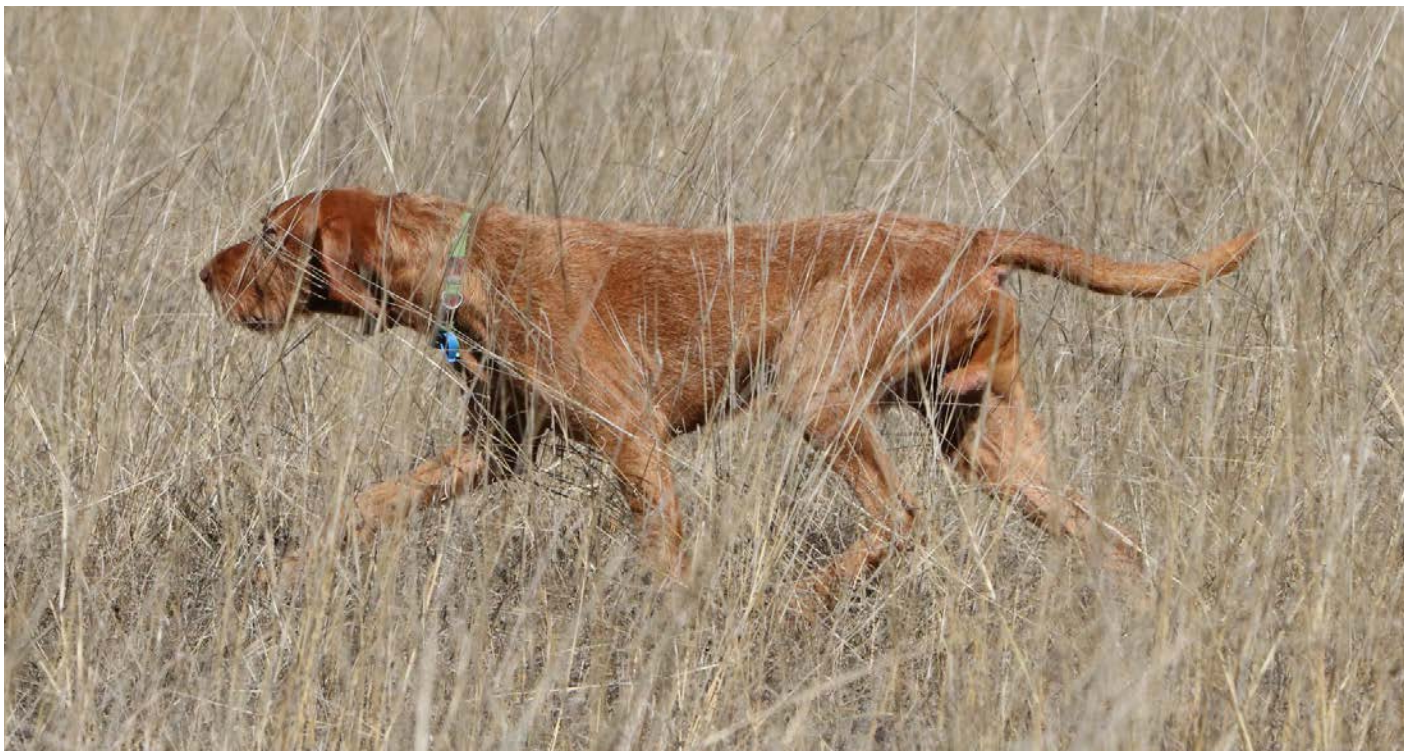

These are two separate breeds. They are shown as different breeds in the Gundog group. They should not be interbred, and any off-spring would be crossbreds.

The standards for the two breeds are almost identical except for the coat, temperament and the word ROBUST. The general description in the HWV starts with the sentence “A lively, russet gold hunting dog of dry and lean but more robust construction compared to the Hungarian Short-Haired Vizsla” (emphasis added).

The height limits are the same but an HWV may look more solid because of its stronger thicker bones. The HWV also has slightly shorter thicker ears and a thicker root to its tail.

TEMPERAMENT

The extended standard states “Whilst the Hungarian Wirehaired Vizsla has all the characteristics of the Shorthaired Vizsla, it is a more placid dog willing to sit of its own accord at the owner’s feet. The energy, enthusiasm and keenness to work is still there along with the desire to be involved in everything the owner is doing.” They are fun-loving and energetic and very much “people” dogs. They like their home comforts; it is part of being with you. Neither HWVs nor HVs are suited to living and sleeping outdoors.

This is a high-drive breed, though, of course, there is variation between individuals. To become excellent family members they need fair, gentle and consistent training. Crate training and car travel from an early age are a good start.

HWVs are excellent with children provided both the children and dogs are carefully trained to keep calm and respect one another.

COAT

The ideal HWV coat is harsh with a smooth-lying outer layer of hair about 2-3 cms on the neck and back but shorter on the legs. There should be a close water-resistant undercoat. The eyebrows, moustache and beard are not as pronounced as other wirehaired breeds. Like other wirehaired breeds there is variation in coat textures with some being too soft or too smooth.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Thanks to Amanda Williamson (Ashbolt Weimaraners), Maree McCabe (Vizwyre HWV), Lara Sedgmen and others for the photographs. Breed information from material produced by Fay Harris and Karen Orzeszko has also been used.

References and sources of additional materials:

Here are some books and articles that describe the work HWVs are bred to do, including hunting with falcons:

A mating of two HWVs can produce offspring that appear to be smooth, i.e., they never grow wirehair and do not have wire eyebrows, moustaches or beards. They are HWV but do not meet the standards. The gene for a wire coat is dominant to the gene for smooth coat so as long as the dog has one gene for wire coat it will have a wire coat, but if it also has a gene for a smooth coat it can produce progeny without wire coats.

HUNGARIAN WIREHAired VIZSLAS AT WORK IN AUSTRALIA

HWV are versatile workers valued by hunters and dog sports enthusiasts. They make excellent deer stalkers and bird dogs. Despite the small numbers in Australia, HWVs have already gained championships in Retrieving, Tracking, Track and Search and Rally, including Dual and Triple Championships, meaning they are also champions in the show ring. Several also have titles for Obedience (up to UD), Scent Work, Endurance and Retrieving ability for gundogs.

How a rescue pet inspired a business idea

– Bettina Harlos

Looking for comfort during a phase of depression I adopted my very first cat Kitty. I was 50 years old at the time and had actually been afraid of dogs and suspicious of cats all my life. That changed on that very day. I realised that loving animals connects humans and makes them feel good. I also observed that animal lovers tend to surround themselves with animal themed items: ceramics, jewellery, clothes and more. Stuck in a career dead end suddenly a business idea was born: Animales online – a shop "run" by animals for animal lovers. Depicted in our branding is the Management Team – Prettytatz the cat: CEO, Paolo the dog: Customer Care, Kooks the Kookaburra: Communications and Paolo the sheep: Kids stuff.

All our animal themed products are sourced from SMEs with strong ethical and sustainable values. They support fair working conditions, re-purpose recycled materials and support charitable causes with parts of their net profits. All of them share our excellent customer service philosophy. Working with like minded business partners from around the world allows us to bring unique and high-quality products to Australia. Currently we stock beautiful dog breed jewellery from Dazzling Paws Jewelry, Wisconsin, designed by my friend Myra Westphal and hand manufactured from recycled Sterling Silver. Another exclusive brand is Californian based Chala Handbags, supplying us with high quality vegan bags and accessories. Our Mila ceramics are designed in Nuremberg, Germany and hand-painted in a small family run business in Thailand and one of our Australian suppliers is Queensland based family run company Bocchetta Plush Toys with their wonderful plush animals.

Purchase online or meet us at markets and events around Australia 'Because we love our animals!'

GO HUGH!

– David Margan

President, Hugh Gent, has made it into the August columns of the Sydney Morning Herald talking about his 52 year romance with the world of dogs and drawing attention to the designer dog disaster, puppy farms and the dumping of dogs purchased in the isolation of the COVID pandemic.

Here's a taste:

"It started 52 years ago with Woody, the first Labrador bought by Elizabeth and Hugh Gent when the couple got off the boat from England with barely two pennies to rub together. Today Mr Gent, the President of Dogs Australia, can detail the subsequent 15 generations of dogs bred from Woody with the ease that comes from a lifetime of presiding over best in show contests across the world."

It was a great advertisement for Dogs Australia and focused pandemic puppy purchases being sent to the nation's dog pounds, here is a little more of what Hugh Gent had to say:

"Dogs Australia will launch a campaign in February to help consumers with videos, guides to different breeds, and a quiz to help select the best dog. The new consumer website, a non-profit site, is run by the Australian National Kennel Council, which Mr Gent has headed for 20 years."

"Mr Gent said the new website Dogs Australia will encourage potential dog owners to consider the three Rs: "The right time, the right breed and the right breeder."

We're lucky to have a person like Hugh at the head of our national body given his love of dogs and his decades of service to the community.

SUMMER HAZARDS

Pixabay

Joanne Bibby – Fursafe®

When I think about Summer, I think about the Queensland heat, the hot sticky days and my personal love of the air conditioner and I bet my dog feels exactly the same way! The thing is though, we cannot spend the entire summer inside – we have to get out and live, and most of all have fun.

As a Silky Terrier, Izzy loves to dig and explore, lie in the morning sun and check out anything that wriggles along. In the Summer even these activities can place her at risk of illness or injury. I don't want to be anxious about Izzy's safety (that wouldn't be good) however, like with anything, if we are aware of the potential risks, we can reduce exposure or be prepared to respond to a crisis!

This article will not go deep in to each hazard, rather touch on them and recommend how to reduce any risk your dog is, or could potentially be, exposed to.

HAZARDS

It is important to note, that the following dangers may also impact your own health and wellbeing if the danger is still present. First, assess the danger, before removing or responding to your dog.

Remember that, if your dog is injured, you may be faced with aggression and be exposed to a potential bite injury, however do not muzzle a dog who has an injury to the face, is vomiting or has breathing difficulties.

BITES AND STINGS

Oh joy! Only today I saw a warning notice on the side of the road asking residents to report sightings of fire ants. This ant is aggressive and the last thing we want is for fire ant nests to be disturbed in our own backyards. These ants are known as our most dangerous ant. Bites produce intense pain and itching. A single sting can produce symptoms of anaphylaxis in just a few minutes – of which can be life-threatening to those allergic to the venom.

Please stay clear. If injury occurs, wash bite area/s with soap and water. Place wrapped ice pack on wound and seek Veterinary help.

Report sightings of fire ants immediately to Queensland Department of Agriculture and Fisheries (DAF) on 13 25 23.

The next ant on our most dangerous list is the yellow crazy ant. This ant doesn't bite, oh no, it sprays formic acid! This acid may burn or irritate skin and eyes of animals and people. If sprayed with the acid, wash the area thoroughly. If in the eyes, flush with saline and seek medical / veterinary care. Stop your dog from licking the burn if at all possible.

Please stay clear. If injury occurs, wash sprayed formic acid area/s with cool, clean water. Seek Veterinary help.

There is a current management trial on Council Land in the Stafford Heights area to determine if Yellow Crazy

Ants are present. Report sightings of Yellow Crazy Ants to Brisbane City Council on 07 3403 8888.

Other ants which you may see around your home or in your community are green head ants, meat ants, sugar ants and funnel ants.

BBQ

'Barbies' are an Australian pastime and summer is a high time for family get-togethers – playing in the backyard having a barbie, what could be better? The thing about the barbeque is, in order to cook you use flames, and flames generate heat, some of course can be electric or heat rocks or gas. Either way the grill top or plate becomes very hot, ranging between 120°C to 260°C and for dogs it spells disaster!

If you are not watching, your dog may reach up, place paws onto the plate or tongue for that matter to reach the food and receive severe burns. Even the hot food can burn the dog's mouth and tongue. Your dog may endure intensive pain, expose themselves to infection, expensive treatment with long term recuperation and potential permanent disability.

If your dog is burnt run water over the injured area for 10-15 minutes to stop the burning process, cover the dog with the emergency blanket and get them to the Vet.

The backyard 'Barbie' is a no-go area for dogs.

CANE TOADS

I do not like Cane Toads and this summer I am seeing Cane Toads everywhere and that is not surprising given the number of tadpoles a female can produce! The toxin that a Cane Toad excretes is vile and it is dangerous to dogs and humans. Dogs love playing with them, rolling them around in their mouth and even biting down on them, because it's fun. What our dogs don't realise is, that the toxin is BAD for them; their mouth becomes coated in the toxin and it is quite thick and very pink. If ingested dogs can become seriously ill – if this happens you must get to the Vet.

Generally speaking, if you act quickly enough and before the dog begins eating any part of the Toad get a cloth and running water and first wipe out the toxin from the tongue and gums, rinsing the cloth at each wipe. Grab the hose or a jug and run the water from one side of the mouth to the other – just make sure you run the water out of the mouth and not down the throat. Continue this process until the mouth is clear and clean of all toxin. Monitor your dog in one room and if you notice any changes in your dog get them to the Vet.

At night when the Toads are out and about put your dog on a leash for their toileting or stay by ready to stop your dog from playing with them.

DROWNING

Who does not love to take their dog to the beach or play in the swimming pool in summer, letting them run and jump and play with their friends in the water? So, if it is so common in Australia why would drowning be an issue? All dogs can swim, can't they? No, not all dogs can swim. For example, a golden retriever is usually a good swimmer but a bulldog has trouble staying afloat. Dogs with big long legs with webbed feet are better than dogs with small legs (like a dachshund), despite having webbed feet and so on. My Silky Terrier is very wary of going into 'deep' water – she likes to keep her feet on solid ground.

Consider this also: If a dog is been unable to get out of a dam or pool and they eventually lose the strength to keep kicking, they may well drown. A dog who falls into the pool and sustains an injury may well drown and then what if they are in a fast-moving current during a flood, they could hit or be hit by debris and lose consciousness.

When a dog swallows too much water from any of the above examples they may drown even after they are removed from the water – this is called Submersion Syndrome.

If in doubt get your dog a quality life vest and if you want to ensure they can exit the water attach a rope so you can pull them back in.

If your dog drowns and there is no response commence CPR and do not stop until you reach the Vet or the dog starts breathing again. It is imperative that you get to the Vet urgently.

Always make sure you supervise your dog whenever they are near water.

FALL FROM HEIGHTS

A fall for a dog could be many things – falling off the lounge awkwardly, out of a home window, off a ledge and so forth. However in summer the most common fall from height is when a dog falls out the window of a moving vehicle or even a stationary one. If your dog is allowed to move around the vehicle and the window is open enough to fit through then you can see that the likelihood of your dog falling from a height is very high. You may have your dog anchored off and yet the strap is too long or like Izzy she sits in a booster seat so she can look out the windscreen and passenger window. When she first used the booster the belt / strap was too long and she fell out of the seat with the passenger door open! (Fortunately we were parked) Thank goodness she wears a harness otherwise she may have been strangled!!

Make sure you tie off your dog to an anchor point. Use a travel harness and not a collar to tie in. Also make sure the strap is long enough for the dog to sit and lie down but not long enough that they can lean out the window.

If your dog does fall from heights, they could experience multiple traumas including spinal injury, brain injury, broken bones or death. If they fall and run loose on the road they may be run over, be thrown a long distance and experience multiple traumas.

If your dog is injured administer emergency dog first aid and get to the Vet the moment your dog is stabilised.

FIRE WORKS / THUNDER STORMS

Most people love going to the fireworks at New Years Eve, Australia Day and any other day of celebration but dogs in general hate them! The sound of fireworks causes a lot of dogs to experience severe anxiety. This anxiety can cause a dog to run around frantically, into furniture, windows or out onto the road.

Consider purchasing a Thunder Shirt® to give them the feeling of security consider doing things with them or treating them during the noise. Talk to your Vet if the anxiety is severe and see if they can suggest alternative ways to calm your pup.

Think about staying home with your dogs during fireworks; if you have to go out, leave them with someone or get someone in to look after them.

HEAT STRESS

Heat Stress is a life-threatening condition and must be avoided at all costs.

Hot weather, especially humid environments can be devastating for dogs if not managed. Heat stress can be brought on by many environmental or biological conditions such as: leaving your dog in a hot car, dog left outside without shade or water, excessive exercise / activity on hot days, walking on hot roads, inside rooms without cooling systems and lack of acclimatisation to hot environments.

Along with the above examples heat stress can be exacerbated by: Obesity (larger breeds greater than 15kg body weight, e.g. Labradors, Retrievers, Bull dogs), Poor physical fitness, Exaggerated physical features, Brachycephalic breeds (flat faced – Bull dogs, Pugs), short limbs and excessive skin wrinkling.

Medical conditions which can increase the risk of heat stress include: respiratory; general illness, seizures, dehydration and Puppies / Elderly Dogs.

Priority for all dog owners is to be aware of what causes heat illness and take all the necessary precautions to reduce its effects as soon as possible so as to ensure your dog's condition does not progress into life-threatening heat stroke.

Prevention is paramount. However if your dog shows the signs of heat stress begin the cooling process immediately. The Fursafe Emergency Dog Heat Relief Kit has been designed to assist in reducing or stabilizing your dog's increased temperature. Once stabilised get to the Vet.

ROADS AND FOOTPATHS

Ever walked on the road or footpath without your thongs on in summer? Notice how it is near impossible because it is so hot that you last 1 second and then you run to the grass! You actually would be left with serious blisters on the soles of your feet if you didn't make a dash off it. Well it's the same for your dogs. Dog's paws are not made of rubber or leather for that matter – they don't wear thongs, joggers or sandals as a rule unless you have a tendency to put shoes on your dogs. If you have them walking on the road or footpaths during the summer months you are putting their little feet at risk of serious pain, 3rd degree burns and serious infection.

Do not allow your dog to walk across the road, gravel or on a footpath without first testing the temperature of the surface. If you place the back of your hand on the ground or better still put your bare feet on it and see if it is safe for your dog to walk on.

If you have a small dog, carry them across the road. And yes, consider a set of shoes if walking on the road or footpath is your only option to get from A to B.

If you do go walking in summer, walk early morning or in the evening.

If your dog's paws are burnt, flush with water for 15 minutes or saline, and get to the Vet as soon as all four paws have been bandaged to protect against infection.

SNAKES

Snakes are out and about during the summer months and this means you should be ever vigilant to make sure they are not sunning themselves where your dog loves to play! South East Queensland has some seriously venomous snakes – they are the Eastern Brown, Red Bellied Black, Coastal Taipan and the common Death Adder. Not only do they give a nasty and painful bite, they can be life threatening.

Dogs are known for disturbing peacefully sleeping snakes. If a dog is bitten by one of the above snakes, then their only hope is to receive antivenom from the Vet.

Although the above four snakes are highly venomous, consider all snakes as potentially venomous unless you have a reliable identification.

Keep your dogs away from snakes!

SUN

Did you know that dogs can actually get sunburnt? Well, yes they can and it can be nasty!

Your dog may exhibit blisters, cracked crusty nose, dry and cracked ear tips and a sore red tummy which can be sensitive to touch and then there are skin cancers. What you will notice from this description is that this is what happens when people are sunburnt.

We are taught to use sunscreen, wear a hat and a lot of us wear a rashie to protect us from the harsh UV rays. This is exactly what you ought to do for your dog. Just make sure that the sunscreen is specifically for dogs with a minimum of SPF 30+. You can get it from all pet shop outlets.

If your dog does end up with sunburn flush with water and speak to your Vet to ensure you manage the burn appropriately for your dog.

SURF / OCEAN

There is little better than taking the dog to the beach. Sea water is great for their skin and coat. Don't dogs have fun darting around on the sand, running into the water and playing with the other dogs?

An obvious hazard are the waves. If your dog is dunked by a wave, they may swallow a lot of sea water which is very bad in itself. Then there are hazards which are not so obvious including hidden fishing hooks, stings from bluebottles, jelly fish and stone fish – all which are very painful; injuries which can lead to an increased risk of bacterial infection.

If your dog is injured seek veterinary care as soon as possible.

TICKS

Paralysis tick season generally runs from Spring into late Autumn, however, in Queensland our warm temperatures and humidity can mean that tick season is pretty much all year round. We must never be complacent when it comes to implementing paralysis tick safety measures.

If possible, avoid potential tick areas / habitats such as bushlands and long grass when walking your dog. Do tick checks every day if you cannot avoid tick habitats, apply and maintain tick prevention control products as prescribed and be aware of the signs and symptoms of tick paralysis disease and act immediately.

When looking for ticks on your dog, start at the nose and work your way to the tail. If you need to see inside the ears, nose, mouth or in between toes or thick fur use a torch. If you find a tick remove it and then continue looking for more ticks. If your dog is showing signs of illness, take them to the Vet as soon as possible for treatment.

CONCLUSION

There are certainly a lot of hazards in Summer and I am sure there are many more than in this article. What is important is that you are aware of them and do what you can to reduce the risk of injury or illness.

Ainslie is a past President and Vice President of Dogs Queensland. Her tenure on the Board of Directors has spanned in excess of 20 years and during this time she has represented Dogs Queensland on the ANKC and various National Committees.

In addition, Ainslie has also served as the Chairperson for:

- The Rules and Constitution Committee
- The Health Committee
- The Dog Of The Year Committee
- The Special Events Committee and
- The Junior Handling Committee.

Her Club involvement has been extensive in both the 'All Breeds' and 'Specialty' arena, beginning at an early age in the Junior Kennel Club. Ainslie's passion has since extended to many other clubs including the Gundogs and Heave Breeds Clubs, The Dachshund and Bassett Hound Clubs and the Hound Club of Queensland.

Ainslie's continuing dedication and unwavering devotion to Dogs Queensland extends from the purchasing of trophies, setting up shows, buying canteen supplies, mediating Breed Club disputes to organising fundraising events and helping at dog training occasions.

Her contribution to the canine community is outstanding and is now duly recognised.

PETER MAYNE

Peter has been a member of the Canine Control Council (Dogs Queensland) since 1984 and held the positions of President and Vice President with the Border Collie Club of Qld since its inception in 1992. He was granted Life Membership of the Club in 2007.

Peter volunteered for several roles with Dogs Queensland including the Dogs Queensland Breaches and Inquiries Sub-Committee. His interests gravitated towards the sport of Herding – he was appointed a Member of the Queensland Herding Sub Committee and enjoyed an involvement as a Herding Test Judge.

Peter assisted with the building of the Herding area at Durack. He is a member of the Queensland Herding Association and has previously held the position of Treasurer. Taking on the task of conducting Herding Judges Training, Peter has been responsible for implementing guidelines for the recording of learning processes and outcomes for assessment processes. Most importantly Peter remains very active in training, mentoring, conducting examinations and assessments for the Herding Judges.

In 2016 Peter represented Dogs Queensland on the ANKC National Herding Committee and offered to oversee the task of reviewing the ANKC Rules for Herding. He represented DQ at the National Meeting and then conducted rule review meetings for Judges and members alike.

In 2021 Peter once again assisted the ANKC National Rule Review.

Peter's dedication to Dog Sports is unmeasurable and his shared knowledge with the Herding paternity has assisted many Dogs Queensland members.

MORE PUPPY FARMS

– David Margan

Greed is a universal human failing and drives everything from a failing environment to the scourge of puppy farms.

Despite the rising tide of protest and opposition to these dog factories applications for development approval for these canine stalags grows apace.

The latest sits before the Scenic Rim Council seeking approval to expand an existing designer dog breeding site to accommodate upwards of 100 dogs.

Council officers are likely to recommend its approval, as they did at the Sunshine Coast Council in the case of the Diamond Valley Development Application. Fortunately in the latter case, after an intense lobbying campaign that saw an Australian record of 450,000 submissions, the Sunshine Coast Councillors voted the application down, 8-1.

The problem here is that the planning legislation Queensland Local Government authorities have to follow contains not a single clause regarding the welfare of animals at the heart of such applications.

The puppy farm application before the Scenic Rim Council is a classic example.

For example the Animal Keeping Code's only concern, much like the breeding of designer dogs, is only about the looks and aesthetics of the gaol. Its only reference to the inmates is the need for the building to be constructed in such a way; "... that dogs are unable to escape;"

As for noise that may disturb the neighbours the Scenic Rim applicants say they will use anti-barking collars that use electrical shocks and a noxious spray. These are a cruel devices, never to be used long term or at all if you care about the dog.

There is no requirement for more than one hour in 24 for socialisation and exercise and even that is not monitored or enforced.

The legislation needs urgent amendment so that local government authorities can decline to engage in puppy farming and its dishonest trade.

It's the only solution short of banning puppy farms.

It's time the Queensland government paid more than lip service to animal welfare.

The codes contain concerns about the environment, the rural amenity, the amenity of neighbours, the rural landscape, koala habitat, the gaol shed that will house the breeders, requirements to prevent their escape, noise prevention but not a word regarding the welfare of the inmates.

DANCES WITH DOGS AND TRICK DOGS

– Gay Westmore,
President, Dances with Dogs Club Queensland

First published in <https://auscattledogstitled.com>
Republished with permission

INTRODUCTION

Dances with Dogs or DWD (as we call it in Australia) grew out of a Crufts pre-best-in-show demonstration by Mary Ray in about 1990<sup>1</sup>; basically she did a 'regular' heelwork demonstration, but in time to music. It was so well received that over time it became recognised as an official discipline by the UK Kennel Club, with Rugby Dog Club (of which Mary was a member) holding the first show in 1996<sup>1</sup>. Subsequently the sport spread to other European countries, the USA and ultimately worldwide, where it has a variety of names, including Heelwork to Music (which includes Freestyle) and Canine Freestyle (which includes HTM). Mary continued to perform a pre-best-in-show demonstration at Crufts through to 2018.

In Australia, Dances with Dogs was recognised by the ANKC as a titling dog sport from January 2009. Since then there have been 5-yearly rule reviews, and in the rule review cycle which commenced in 2017, Dogs West put forward a proposal for introduction of Trick Dog as an ANKC discipline. This concept was adopted and Trick Dog became a titling sport from January 2020. It had a somewhat bumpy inauguration, with only a few competitions being held in 2020 due to most dog sports being cancelled as a result of Covid-19 restrictions.

In both DWD and Trick Dog, dogs work off lead, so a level of engagement and connection between the dog and handler are essential prerequisites for competing in both these sports; on the other hand, training our dog in a fun and positive manner helps develop a strong bond and relationship between the dog and handler which benefits both parties in everyday life as well as in competition.

DANCES WITH DOGS

There are two separate divisions in DWD: (a)

Freestyle and (b) Heelwork to Music. In both divisions, the handler and their dog work as a team, presenting choreographed movements executed to music. DWD allows freedom for the handler to choose their music, the moves they include and the associated costume and props used in their routine. The moves, costume and props should all relate to and/or be compatible with the selected music and its theme.

A key principle of the sport is that the dog should be treated with respect and not be put in harm's way, so we do not dress our dog in costumes (they can wear a decorative collar only) or include moves which could put the dog at risk of injury.

There are 4 class levels in each division of DWD – Starter, Novice, Intermediate and Advanced. The level of difficulty of moves should increase with each higher level, as does the duration of the routine. At Starter level, the routine must be at least 1 minute long while at Advanced level it can be a maximum of 4 minutes long. Championship titles are gained subsequent to the Advanced title, and require a very high level of performance – 7 qualifying scores of at least 160 (out of 180) after completion of the Advanced title for the relevant division.

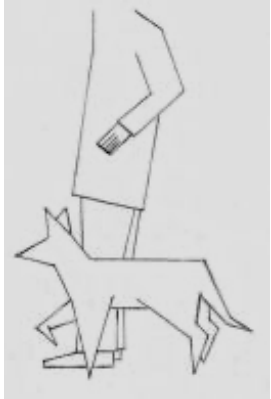

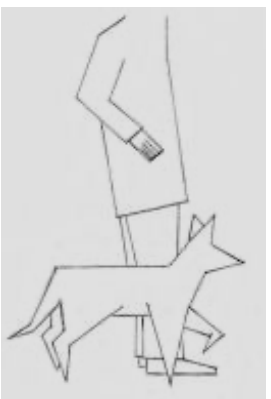

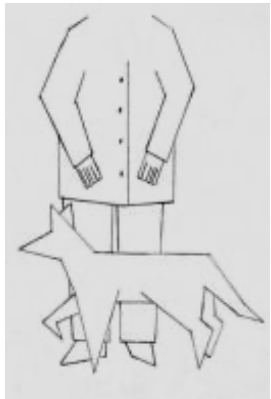

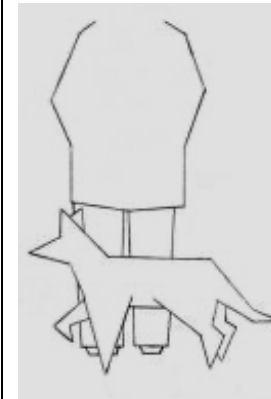

Heelwork to Music requires that, for at least 70% of the routine, the dog must be close to the handler's leg and

- (a) move parallel to the handler in one of the 8 nominated heelwork positions;
- (b) keep the same distance in relation to the handler in all positions;
- (c) move in the same direction as the handler;
- (d) move at the same pace as the handler.

'Heelwork' position in HTM, goes far beyond the left heel position with which we are familiar in Obedience and Rally. There are 8 HTM positions available and in each of these 8 positions there are 4 potential directions of movement by the dog – forwards, backwards, laterally to the left and laterally to the right; that means 32 positions/ directions of movement are available, though of course Starter routines are quite simple with about 3 positions and just 1 or 2 directions of movement normally being included.

The following diagram from the UK Kennel Club rules illustrates the 8 positions (see also <http://www.caninefreestylelegb.com/articles/heelworkpositions.html> {Canine Freestyle Great Britain – heelwork positions}).

FREESTYLE

As the name suggests, Freestyle is less structured and can include any safe moves that the team can perform and that reflect the theme of the music. Many of the behaviours found in Trick Dog training and competition also appear in Freestyle routines, but Freestyle goes even further and can include many other moves not represented within the Trick Dog discipline. Behaviours that are often used in Freestyle routines include: circling a prop, circling the handler, leg weaves (and their many variations), targeting a hand-held prop, paw work (from paw lifts to leg wraps, to cross-paws, to sustained paw lifts moving in time with the handler), walk back, reversing around the handler or a prop, roll over, and crawl; and poses such as a bow, sit pretty, paws up on handler's arm, paw over face, head/chin resting on a prop; and many more. This short list itself illustrates the level of cross-over between Freestyle and Trick Dog behaviours.

CHOREOGRAPHY

A DWD routine is not simply an unrelated series of tricks performed one after the other. It can build on behaviours from the Trick Dog sport, or indeed other sports including Agility as well as Obedience and Rally. The difference is that DWD also requires you to select a piece of music and develop a sequence which flows and interprets that music – ie to choreograph the routine. You have the freedom, challenge and enjoyment of selecting music that best suits you and your dog, of creating a theme to your music and selecting a costume which complements the theme and your dog.

Although the handler's actions (and attire) add to the routine, it is the dog who is the star, and it is important that the handler (no matter how skilful they may be at dance or how super their costume is) not overshadow the dog's performance.

Do you need to be a 'dancer' to participate in DWD?

No, dance skills are not required. It is great if you can hear the beat of a piece of music and have a sense of rhythm, but even those skills can be developed.

TRICK DOG

The Trick Dog rules list a number of tricks for each level of competition – Starter, Novice, Intermediate and Advanced.

One innovative feature of Trick Dog, designed to assist newcomers and their dogs to become comfortable in a competition ring environment, is that in the Starter and Novice classes handlers can not only praise but also reward their dog after each completed trick.

Although not the same level of flexibility and creativity that DWD offers, there is nevertheless the opportunity to select tricks which best suit your dog and to choose the order in which they are performed. The requirements of each class are –

Class	Number of tricks to be selected	Number of available options
Starter	6	15
Novice	8	20
Intermediate	8	20
Advanced	10	25

Some of the behaviours are included in multiple levels, increasing in difficulty/duration at each higher level. For example, Go Round an object at Starter level is once around from at least 0.5 m distance. At Novice level it is 1 ½ circles from 2 metres, and at Intermediate it is 2 ½ circles from 3 metres. This is a logical and sequential development of the dog's skills in a foundation behaviour, and one which is also used in many DWD routines.

BALANCE AND FLEXIBILITY

While Obedience and Rally require the dog to work on the handler's left side (with minor exceptions in Advanced Rally stations), in DWD and Trick Dog, when beside the handler, the dog can be on the handler's left or right side. This has the benefit of enabling us to have regard to the effect of the dog's position on the dog's skeletal and muscular development. In canine conditioning, we deliberately work in both directions, to even out the dog's movement and flexibility. DWD and Trick Dog enable us to take those same issues into consideration in selecting how we perform various moves and tricks.

CONCLUSION

Training our dog in any dog sport provides both mental stimulation and physical activity for the dog, and enables us to improve communication between the dog and handler and to channel the dog's energy into activities which are mutually enjoyable and beneficial. As owners of working dog breeds, we know how important that is.

Both DWD and Trick Dog allow flexibility and provide the opportunity to draw on and develop the skills and loves of both the dog and handler and most of all to have fun together. DWD in particular allows freedom and creativity to an extent unique to this sport. The flexibility and creativity that these two sports offer makes them suitable for all dogs and all breeds – large or small, fast or slow – and indeed for handlers with varying physical abilities. Many dogs who have been retired from other sports because of age or injury are now enjoying doing tricks, and hopefully some of them will venture into the world of Dances with Dogs as well.

06/04/1958 - 07/01/2022

The story of Wendy and AG. Ch. Holly
ADM, ADO, JDM, JDO, SPDM, GDM,
SDM,

Queensland and Australia's First Agility Champion.

Wendy started dog training in the 1980's with a Shetland Sheepdog and competed in Obedience gaining her first obedience titles. This was Wendy's introduction to all things dog.

It wasn't until some time later that she moved to Ingham and joined the Ingham Dog Obedience Club with a new "red dog" Kelpie pup, Holly. Holly was from a working bloodline but didn't have "papers". Unfortunately, this meant that Holly couldn't compete with the purebred dogs under the Canine Control Council (CCCQ) rules of the time.

Holly was a very intelligent dog and was full of energy but if there ever was a difficult and chaotic dog with attitude, it was Holly. Wendy started Obedience training with Holly at a very early age and struggled with the training. Holly would often bite Wendy when she tried to put her in the drop position and Wendy had to crash tackle the lead as Holly zoomed past on her recalls.

WENDY AND HOLLY

Not long after starting with the club Wendy was introduced to Agility. Wendy had never heard of Agility and the instructors were only able to tell the participants about the end result but were unable to tell them how to achieve it. So, Wendy was self-taught through a dog training magazine called Clean Run and videos that she had borrowed.

Eventually she entered her first trial. Holly barked her way around the course missing half of the obstacles, then played tug with the rope exclusion zone and decided that contacts were not her thing.

By the end of 2003 Holly had gained her non-pedigree Masters Agility and Jumping Titles as well as her Companion Dog and Endurance Trial titles with at least another 10 or so qualifiers.

On the 1st July 2005 ANKC / CCCQ introduced the Associate Dog Register for crossbreeds and purebred non-papered dogs. This was the introduction of the officially recognised achievements in the ring.

However, this now meant that the new Associate Registered dogs had to start the process again from scratch. Holly had gained her Novice, Excellent and Masters Agility and Jumping titles by the end of 2005.

WENDY AND CODIE

In 2006, ANKC / CCCQ introduced the new title of Agility Champion. The scoring system for Ag. Champ. was different to what it is now. For Holly to gain the title of Agility Champion starting again from scratch from Novice, Excellent through to Masters in Agility and Jumping, in total she had to achieve some 70 qualifying scores.

This was a remarkable achievement in less than 2 years and thousands of kilometres travelled.

At the end of her career Holly had also gained her Open Agility (ADO) and Jumpers (JDO) and Masters Snooker (SDM), Masters Gamblers (GDM) and Masters Strategic Pairs (SPDM) titles.

Holly was also successful in achieving her Australian Agility Champion (AAC) with another Australia Agility governing body thus making her a dual Agility Champion as well as the International Agility Dog (IAD) status.

Wendy continued competing with another two of her working Kelpies, Codie and Marla, until they retired. Sadly some 4 years ago Wendy suffered ill-health which took its toll, but she fought it with the tenacity that she was renowned for, and she survived, happily ringing the bell at the end of her chemo treatment.

After moving from Townsville to Innisfail some years ago Wendy started a dog training business called Tropical Outdoor Performance Dog Sports (TOP DogS) where she taught positive reward-based puppy classes, pet dog training and more recently Scentwork. Her most recent accomplishment she was so proud of, was the completion of her Nationally Recognised Certificate III in Dog Behaviour and Training. She also re-connected with other club members with the newly introduced competitive sport of Scentwork gaining her Novice Scentwork Title and additional qualifying scores in Advanced Scentwork with her working kelpie, Gidgee.

Wendy was also an avid nature lover and could rattle off the names of many flora and fauna species in the Far North Region and in more recent times became a beekeeper selling honey at the local markets.

Wendy will be sadly missed by her family, friends and doggy acquaintances.

Breeder Alert – Puppy Scam Websites

Dogs Queensland has become increasingly aware of Puppy Scam Websites using legitimate Dogs Queensland Registration and Queensland Breeder Identification (BIN) Numbers to sell puppies. Dogs Queensland Registration Numbers are obtained from legitimate websites such as Dogs Queensland or DogzOnline, where they are displayed as required by the Queensland Government.

Please see the Queensland Dog Breeder Fact Sheets for regulations and guidelines for Queensland Dog Breeders.

An example of a typical scam is:

- A Dogs Queensland Membership number is lifted from current advertising on the internet.
- The scammer researches and obtains personal details of the breeder including name, suburb, prefix.
- A domain name similar to the Kennel prefix is registered on an offshore registry.
- Once the breeder has ceased advertising the litter of puppies a new website is published.
- No physical address or phone numbers are advertised on the website.
- The seller avoids permitting you to physically see the cyber puppy and only sends non genuine pictures.
- The seller insists on only accepting payment by a crypto currency or a funds transfer.

As a breeder what can you do to avoid being an unknowing victim of a Puppy Scam:

- Regularly Google search the internet for websites using a similar Domain Name as your Prefix.
- Put a warning notification in your online advertising to alert buyers to check any website they are looking at is legitimate.
- Encourage puppy buyers to verify breeder information with Dogs Queensland and make direct in-person contact with you.
- Ensure puppy buyers check communications are made with verified contact details.
- Encourage puppy buyers to meet the puppy and breeder before handing over payments.

As a buyer what can you do to avoid being a victim of a Puppy Scam:

- Verify breeder information with Dogs Queensland.
- Ensure communications are made to verified contact details.
- Meet the puppy and breeder before handing over payments.
- If paying online, use a credit card or PayPal where you have a degree of buyer protection.
- Check website is an established site with a website security certificate.
- Avoid websites without physical address or phone numbers.
- Ask for proof, including ANKC registration papers and veterinary health records for any puppy.

Importantly you should report any suspect sites or advertising to the ACCC ScamWatch website. Please let us know about any suspect websites too by contacting Dogs Queensland on 3252 2661 or by email at info@dogsqueensland.org.au.

Eukanuba™

A HEAD START ON AN ACTIVE FUTURE

Fuel their growth and their play

Eukanuba™ puppy diets contain concentrated energy and optimized fat and carbohydrate levels to help fuel growth and play.

At weaning energy required for growth is at 50%, however when this growth plateaus energy required for growth drops down to 8-10%. Our goal with puppies is not to maximise their growth and weight gain but to ensure they grow at the right pace.

Different size puppies have different metabolic growth rates, for example, a smaller breed puppy has a quicker metabolic growth rate and so this must be represented in their diets. As fat supplies more energy per gram than protein and carbohydrate, Eukanuba™ puppy diets have a high calorie density and are a great source of:

- Essential fatty acids
- A concentrated form of energy
- Carrier for fat soluble vitamins
